By the end of our project we will know that		By the end of our project we will know some faith stories and how they relate to actions in the real world. They will know how they guide people in their choices of what is right and wrong. They will know the term 'community' and how people live and work together harmoniously for a common goal. They will understand the meaning of responsibility. Children will be able to discuss 'big' questions that are difficult to answer.
